

Privacy and Micron Foundation’s Educational Programs:

For Parents/ Guardians: Micron respects the privacy of all individuals, including children and students. In order to offer a variety of STEM-based educational programs and resources, the Micron Foundation (a 501(c)(3) nonprofit) (the “Foundation” or “we” or “our”) may collect and process limited individually identifiable information related to actual or potential participants. Some but not all of these programs and resources are targeted towards individuals under the age of thirteen (13). We process Personal Information in compliance with applicable law and our global Privacy Notice.

Types of Personal Information that the Micron Foundation may Collect and Process:

Program Registration Information: To enroll students in the Foundation’s educational programs, we may ask the parent or guardian for certain types of Personal Information (including Children’s Information) such as: student’s first and last names; name of student’s school; student’s grade; student’s gender; parent/guardian email address; parent/guardian phone number; parent/guardian address; and family information. We may also ask for sensitive Personal Information such as ethnic origin.

The Foundation may use the information listed above to administer the programs, match students with future opportunities and to provide parents, guardians and teens with additional communications about future programs.

Program Participation Information: When students participate in our programs, we may, only with a parent or guardian’s consent, record virtual events for internal training purposes or take photographs for program promotion. Such consent may be requested at the time of program registration or at the time of the event.

The Foundation’s webpages may also collect information through cookies and other automated technology. For webpages directed to children under 13, we use such technology only to support the internal operations of the relevant websites.
